The Craniosacral Fascial System in Relation to All of the Body Systems

By Dr. Barry Gillespie

For years I have clinically seen that newborn/infant GA (Gillespie Approach) can result in happier, healthier, stronger, and smarter babies. How can I scientifically support that statement if these qualitative factors cannot be measured quantitatively?

How Newborn GA Would Look in America

By Dr. Barry Gillespie

Hospital births represent 98.6% of the newborn American population. The other 1.4% of babies born at home/birth centers would need GA from their birth professionals or infant providers.
